For Such A Time As This

It's so easy to fall into discouragement these days. We are consumed by the news of the coronavirus to the point that everything we've ever known has come to an abrupt halt. As I reflect on that alone, I begin to realize that perhaps God has finally gotten our attention. We've set aside many of our idols: sports, politics and social agendas to name just a few and we've discovered that which is more important. For some, it's prolonged time with the family. For others, it's an opportunity to spend more time with God. Whatever you may believe about the situation, I believe it is God's perfect, sovereign timing that has caused us to rediscover who He is.

In January 2020, our ministry felt a strong desire to deepen our relationship with both communities in which we serve, Durango and Cañon Buena Vista. In the midst of discovering how we were going to lift the profile of Jesus in those areas, along comes the it'sy-bitsy coronavirus, causing worldwide panic!

In Mexico, many have both lost their jobs and have been ordered to shelter-in-place, just like in the US. But, there is no stimulus check arriving on their doorstep. In fact, there's much more police presence and overstepping being done that many of these folks are getting desperate.

They are allowed out for groceries and doctor visits but, that's about it. Grocery lines extend for blocks and, once inside, they are limited in how much they can buy. And, not just because the Mexican Peso has been devalued by 30%. As a result, their money has to be stretched even further than ever before.

Our ministry partners have become the Church, jumping to the front lines to bring them hope, replacing that despair! Exhausted, they are feeding their neighbors each day and praying over them, feeding them spiritually as well. We read one report after another of people coming to a saving faith in Jesus Christ.

I, for one, feel privileged to be a part of this. But, we cannot do this alone and are asking for additional prayer and resources. We haven't any idea as to when the quarantine will be lifted but we do know we will run out of funding soon. Please consider joining us in this effort.

Sincerely,

And who knows whether you have not come to the kingdom for such a time as this?-

New Hire

As a bilingual Mexican native and long-time friend of WTTM, it was only fitting that Eglá would come on board as our first ministry liaison in Ensenada. She will take a hands-on approach to discussing and interpreting the needs in the communities in which we serve.

Many of you already know her and would agree that she is a very welcome addition to our team!
