Presentation of the key to the new homeowner can represent much more than a way to secure their home. Oftentimes, it can mean a significant change to the trajectory of their life.

Back in Business

The years 2019 and 2020 saw a significant slowdown in our ability to provide shelter for those families who desperately needed a dry, secure place to call home.

Fortunately, as the calendar turned to 2021, we were finally allowed, as a ministry, to enter into Mexico to bless 2 deserving families.

The Cruz Perez family was the first, in February, to receive their new home. A good part of this team consisted of one family, there to honor one of their own as a 50th birthday gift. Personally, I can't think of a greater, mutually transformative blessing!

The Cruz Perez dwelling is pictured to the upper right and is very indicative of homes we discover in the area in which we serve.

As an added bonus to this trip, one of our team members was privileged enough to lead the father of this family to a saving relationship with Jesus Christ!

The second family received their new home in October. Many of us had already come to know the Alvarado family as we'd met them in 2008. We had built a home for them way back then but the dad left the family and sold that house, leaving them to fend for themselves.

Maria, the mom, as a result, had a bit of difficulty trusting God after that setback. But, I love how God redeems His children— the Alvarado Family have found a local church and are worshipping there weekly!

I, for one, feel privileged to be a part of this ministry. But, we cannot continue without your help. Currently, we are asking for additional prayer and resources, especially for the Feeding Programs we support. Please consider joining us in this effort.

Sincerely,
